Peter Walker Obituary

Peter Walker
1934 - June 2023
Peter Walker passed away in June 2023 due to complications of Parkinson's. His three children survive him: Victoria, Phillip, and Gwendolyn; and his five grandchildren, whom he cherished.
Born in 1934, the second of three children to Elwyn Walker and Blanche Kyhl in Portland, Ore. He attended Ockley Green Elementary School and later Jefferson High School. After high school, he became a submariner for two years on the USS Carp, where he traveled to Hawaii, Japan, and Korea. He could often be seen wearing his USS Carp cap.
After the Navy, Pete returned to Portland, rekindled a relationship with a high school friend and married in 1957. He attended Portland State and later the University of Oregon where he earned a M.S. in Political Science. He taught humanities, American Studies, and International Relations at Clackamas High School for over 30 years.
Throughout his career he pursued ways to improve upon his interests and understanding of the world. In 1967 Pete participated in a teacher exchange program sponsored by the state department at East/West Center in Hawaii to study Asian culture. He, along with a group of teachers representing the United States, went to Thailand to start a six-week field study of Asian countries. As a result, he introduced Asian studies into the curriculum in North Clackamas School District. He was also the chair of the Oregon Council of Social Sciences. As a union activist he served on the Fair Dismissal Board for the state of Oregon and developed a code of ethics for teachers. He started a program with cooperation of Portland State University that enabled upper-level students to earn college credit. He loved participating in the Model United Nations at the state level and was an International Club Advisor. He loved reading, tennis, jazz, bicycling and spontaneously dancing. Upon retirement, he volunteered as an escort at Planned Parenthood and for Habitat for Humanity. Then joined Peace Corps in 1993 and taught at Palacky University in Olomouc, CR. During his two-year assignment he traveled throughout Western and Eastern Europe some of those times with his children. Upon returning to the U.S. he co-translated two books with a Japanese professor, Yoshitaro Nishimura. They toured Japan together visiting the locations that were written about in the short stories.
A celebration of Pete's life will be held at the Kennedy School, Aug. 6, 2023. A program will begin at 5 p.m., followed by dinner.

Life is But a Stopping Place

Life is but a stopping place,
A pause in what's to be,
A resting place along the road,
To sweet eternity.
We all have different journeys
Different paths along the way,
We all were meant to learn some things;
But never meant to stay...
Our destination is a place,
Far greater than we know.
For some the journey's quicker,
For some the journey's slow.
And when the journey finally ends,
We'll claim a great reward,
And find an everlasting peace.

I am on a lifetime honeymoon with my third husband--my Mr. Wonderful—Ben.

My son Tom Hall is 30, a Tri-Met driver--bought our tiny home near CHS.

Bens's son Jon is 28, an assistant electronics manager for the Tacoma Fred Meyers. My daughter Jaime Velarde is 23, married Bruce four years ago and had our first grandchild, Justin Lee in April. Last year, they were drug and alcohol addicted, living on the streets, with an eighth grade education and now Bruce is a warehouse supervisor at Levitz. Ben's son Michael is 23, is steadily dating Alison --a computer and Japanese major at Linfield College plus works for Fred Meyers plus internships. Ben's daughter Cynthia is 21, is steadily dating Terrence—dispatching for AT&T Cable. My daughter Gina Rogers is 20, a CHS graduate, Casablanca Model—Cosmetology Careers College and is a Home Base cashier.

Ben had an emotional breakdown the winter before I met him and had left his eighteen year US West career in Seattle, eventually becoming homeless—living out of his van in the back of our Church, after receiving a CHS graduate, Pastor Jerry Schmidt permission. Writing drew us together as friends, as I transcribed Ben's poetic biography. We were engaged prior to dating—as God called us.

Ben works for ELI, as a fiber-optics technician and is being transferred into the headquarter's Vancouver test center due to his inability to recuperate from his hernia surgery last year, which triggered his fibromyalgia-myofascia syndrome.

I am a successful, thirty-year plus real estate broker but the Lord called me into retirement to do outreach and internet ministry work plus writing my biography.

I have been a support person and character witness in child custody cases, sexual harassment issues, fraud, juvenile hall, assault and CSD employment situations

We are are on the church's singles leadership team plus two mission boards.

PREP is a local Christian organization, which ministers to the elementary students.

PRAKASH is a top-rated, Christian skill school located in Nagpur, India—which we will be touring next year. I have never been to a third world country.

We are traveling to India this winter to tour the PRAKASH facilities. I lived in in England three years—where my son was born and toured Europe extensively.

Mid-September, we are touring Europe and the Passion Play--based on the life of Jesus—with a CHS graduate, Pastor Dennis and Shirley Deardorff. Imagine—traveling on a Europeon tour bus with Dennis, after riding the school bus together. We rolled our van on black ice near Baker OR last year and God protected us.

Hobbies: reading, writing, gardening, camping, art, photography plus traveling. We do not have time for TV, radio or reading the newspaper—it is too depressing.

Summary: I've lived in England (3 years), NE Portland (5 years), Hermiston (8 years), Umatilla (7 years), Gresham (2 years) and Milwaukie (5 years). At 45 I began my mid-life crises; I acknowledged my spirituality, through a discovery process that launched me into a recovery journey on the path to find "ME" and my eventual salvation through my Lord. If anyone could have ever told me how painfully difficult that mountain would be to climb, I would never have ventured forth; however, I wouldn't trade any of that struggle for the fictitious empty life I was living in my absurd denial. Watching my family pull together to care for my mother who died from a brain tumor in May has caused me to look at my imminent demise and reconfigure my priorities. I used to laugh on the outside to please everyone else and cry on the inside to comfort myself... now, I'm learning to be more emotionally balanced as I experience life to the fullest!

Frances Marie Merritt

Jan. 21, 1947 - Feb. 14, 2018

Frances Marie Merritt, 71, passed away peacefully Feb. 14, 2018, in Vancouver.

Born Jan. 21, 1947, in Oakland, Calif., to Chief Petty Officer Stanley Dudek of the U.S. Navy and wife Barbara Dudek. Upon her father's untimely death, at the age of eight, she settled in Milwaukie, Ore., to be close to her mother's relatives.

After graduating from Clackamas high school in 1965 she worked at Tektronix, and the U.S. Post Office, before pursuing a career in dental hygiene, graduating from Mt. Hood Community College in 1977. She worked in a variety of dental clinics in Oregon and Washington until she took a job with Alaska Teamsters in Fairbanks, Alaska – where she worked for eight years. After returning to the N.W. she moved to the Seattle area and worked as Lead Hygienist for Willamette Dental for 18 years. In August 2015, after using hormone replacement therapy for 20 years, she was diagnosed with Stage 4 breast cancer that was not detectable on any of her annual mammograms. The only treatment option she was offered was a carcinogenic, hormone blocker medication that would have been caustic to her liver, she declined that treatment in favor of a healthier alternative approach, which extended her life several months longer than her oncologist expected.

She was preceded in death by her father; mother; younger brother, Paul; and nephew, Russell. She is survived by her daughter, N'cole Merritt; older brother, Michael Dudek; younger sisters, Mary Botsford and Barbara Fullman; multiple nieces and nephews; and several close friends.

Frances requested no memorial service and her body has been donated to the University of Washington's Willed Body Program for science research.

MARTY L. FIRSTENBURG

Fountain Valley, Calif.

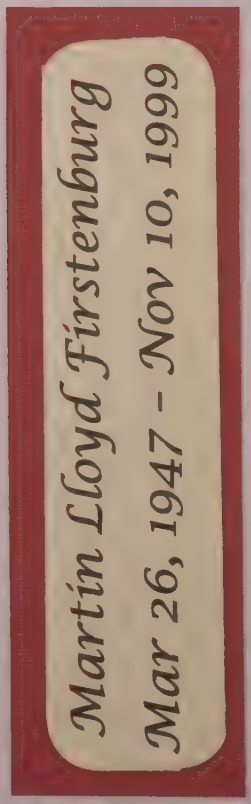
A memorial service was Nov. 20 at the Crystal Cathedral in Garden Grove, Calif., for Marty Lloyd Firstenburg, who died of carbon monoxide poisoning Nov. 10, 1999. He was 52.

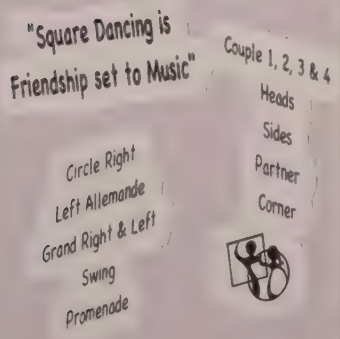
He was born March 26, 1947, in Oliver, British Columbia.

Mr. Firstenburg was a square dance caller and teacher.

Survivors include his wife, Cinda, at home; two daughters, Tina Kopp of Vancouver and Cheryl Morgan of Portland; one sister, Marlene Gerba of Milwaukie, Ore.; one brother, Greg of Albuquerque, N.M.; and six grandchildren.

He enjoyed golfing, square dancing and teaching.





Marty Firstenberg "P.S. I Love You By Marty: In Memory Of Gloria Firstenburg" (1985-?) (LP)
(Produced by Jerry Bradley & Gene Breeden)

This privately released album is a touching memento recorded by a guy whose wife died in an auto accident along the Oregon coast. The Firstenburgs were square-dancing enthusiasts who participated in and "called" events around Salem, Oregon in the late '70s and early '80s, as part of the Goodtimers dance group. She died in November, 1984, and not long after he booked time at a studio in Nashville and recorded a set of what I assume were some of her favorite songs, drawing mainly on country material, along with some pop tunes such as "PS, I Love You." Many selections are nakedly forlorn and mournful, such as covers of Merle Haggard's "Place To Fall Apart" and "What Am I Gonna Do," or Ken Wesley's "We Never Ran Out Of Love." The backing band included Gene Breeden on guitar and Doug Jernigan playing steel. Sad, but sweet.

Man takes life at South Fork Trailhead on Nov. 9

A Fountain Valley man despondent over financial difficulties apparently took his life at the South Fork Trailhead Tuesday night, Nov. 9.

Lt. Darryl Birney with the Hemet Sheriff's Station said a missing person's report filed the day before with the Fountain Valley City Police Department by his wife, showed Martin Firstenburg, 52, had tried taking his life three times in March of this year.

He was found at the trailhead by the sheriff's department at 9 a.m. Wednesday, Nov. 10. The Riverside County Coroner's report is pending on the cause of death but Lt. Birney said Mr. Firstenburg had apparently asphyxiated himself by placing a hose from the exhaust pipe into his van.

Firstenberg continued

Note: I am looking for any of the other dancers that went in 1978 with Marty and Gloria Firstenburg to Wizard Island, in Crater Lake. There were about 10 of us who got a permit to go to the island and dance on the dock. At that time, it was not open to the public. I hope there are a few of them reading this. I would like to get as many as we can to do a reunion. meeting at Diamond Lake Festival and then doing a return trip to the island. I know there have been other groups going to the island to dance, but these 10 people were the first to dance on the island in 1978. Anyone out there please let me know as it would be great for a 40 year reunion. Marty and Gloria will be missed, but maybe we can find a caller who might do the calling for us.

Hooked on a feeling

By Kirby Lee
NEW YORK TIMES NEWS SERVICE

LOS ANGELES — Who knows where Lyla Foggia's latest crusade to start a women-only fly-fishing club will lead.

The former publicist gained national acclaim with her 1995 book "Reel Women: The World of Women Who Fish." Considered the standard for the sport, the book was recently selected among the best fishing books in print by Field & Stream magazine.

A fly-fishing club in Los Angeles appears the next logical step for the North Hollywood resident, who worked on the "Live with Regis and Kathie Lee" show and as an independent publicist for the films "ET," "Raiders of the Lost Ark," "Mr. Mom" and "War Games."

Foggia said although there are clubs with men and women, they are usually dominated by men, who are more concerned with big catches rather than a social gathering.

Women, on the other hand, prefer a place where they can spend time with family and friends.

"Being around men can be totally intimidating," Foggia said. "Women, who are learning to fish, need an environment where they can relax and feel safe asking dumb questions. Women connect with the spiritual side of fishing. It is a feeling of almost like a sorority."

For Foggia, 53, it was the isolation of Central Florida which piqued her interest in fishing in 1980 while stationed for six months on the set of the movie "Cross Creek."

"There was nothing to do but fish," Foggia said. "Everywhere you looked, there was water. It was bass-fishing paradise."

Foggia continued angling when she returned to Southern California at Castaic Lake and Lake Casitas as an outlet to relieve work stress as West Coast publicity vice president of Tri-Star pictures.

It was a complete turnabout from her childhood in Oregon, where her family, which camped

Women in the wild: Women who fish and are in fishing clubs say they prefer to be in women-only clubs because men tend to dominate and the women become intimidated.

"What really got me hooked was the tranquility it provides," Foggia said. "There is nothing that takes stress away faster than fishing. It is cheaper than therapy and better for you than pills."

She persuaded her husband, Kelly Neal, and children Richard, 35, and Cassandra Whittington, 32, and 11-year granddaughter Jordan Whittington, to the car in the dark and have him drive to Lake Isabella," Foggia said. "I am convinced you have a fishing gene or you don't. You are either super excited or OK, this is fun."

Foggia moved from the Seattle area to Los Angeles in 1977 as a staff publicist for First Artist. In 1980, she became broadcast and was promoted to publicity director, a post she held in 1985 until heading to Tri-Star.

In 1987, overcome by job stress, Foggia quit her position at Tri-Star to move to Welches, Ore., a tiny resort at the base of Mt. Hood.

In 1992, Foggia took up fly fishing after watching the movie "A River Runs Through It" and Deshutes River. Foggia stresses the contemporary women profiled in her book, like herself, are conservationists, who release the fish they catch.

"The whole process of casting and trying to make every cast perfect completely clears your mind," Foggia said. "It is like somebody had vacuumed all the stress out of my system."

In an effort to get women involved in the sport, Foggia set out to write a guidebook. It turned into a 2½-year project that later became "Reel Women."

During her first week of research, Foggia discovered an English nun, Dame Juliana Berners, had written the first treatise on fishing, in 1496. Intrigued by that reference to Berners in a fishing encyclopedia, Foggia sent press releases to every major daily newspaper in the U.S. and angling magazines, requesting information from female anglers.

Foggia was inundated with responses that provided the foundation for the nearly 100 women she profiled in her book. It also includes the first-ever women's angling resource directory, with national and state listings of organizations, businesses and services.

"Fly fishing opened up a whole new passion for her writing," Neal said about his wife. "She was at a crossroads and something clicked. The book came out of two forces that had nothing to do with each other."

Foggia, who embarked on a 13-city tour for the book's release, is hoping to use "Reel Women" as the springboard to launch a women-only fly-fishing club in January.

"I really can't believe what I did to find all that information that had never been written before," Foggia said. "It was almost like being a private detective and fitting the pieces of a puzzle together. To relive that period was horrendous, but now I have all the contacts. Getting women together for the club should be easy."

Lyla Foggia - American Museum Of Fly Fishing

~2 minutes

Lyla Foggia is an enthusiastic steelhead angler. She combined her passion for the sport with her professional writing background to publish the groundbreaking book Reel Women: The World of Women Who Fish.

Foggia began her career as a freelance journalist after receiving a 1977 National Endowment for the Arts writing fellowship. She is a former Hollywood studio executive who has worked for First Artists Productions, Columbia Pictures, and TriStar Pictures. During those years she was part of core marketing teams that promoted some of the most popular movies ever produced. Foggia has also been a publicity consultant for television and worked with the popular show Live with Regis and Kathie Lee.

Seeing a void in publications concerning women's history in fishing, Foggia decided to put her research and writing talents to work. After two years of research, Reel Women was published in 1995 by Beyond Words Publishing and was first excerpted by the American Museum of Fly Fishing in its journal, the American Fly Fisher (Spring 1996, vol. 22, no. 2). Foggia's book was the first to present five hundred years of women's fishing history, including fly fishing, in one source. In 1999, Field & Stream magazine named the book one of the top twenty-five best fishing books in print

Foggia lives with her husband in Portland, Oregon. She owns and operates a consulting firm, Foggia Public Relations, and continues to enjoy steelhead angling whenever possible. Foggia is in the process of researching and writing another book along the lines of Reel Women to include women worldwide; publication of this new book is expected in 2012.

Hi, thank you for inquiring about my uncle Jeff. He was my grandma's brother. Yes, you may use his pics. Did you know him? May I ask how the memorial will be published? Who will have access? I think that is very thoughtful of you to put that together. I didn't know him extremely well, but I know my dad and uncle looked up to him a lot. He was a kind man, and a beloved member of the family.
As far as his family info goes…. I can give you some basics about his life that I know of… but unfortunately his family's story ended in tragedy. I don't mind telling you the story, and I'm not inclined to sugar coat things, but in this case I don't feel it would be appropriate for a memorial.

Bonnie was my oldest sister. She was the 'middle' child of 7. I lived with her for a while in So. Carolina many years ago. Those were interesting times. I can remember a particular thunder and lightening storm. We both loved them. We lived in a single wide trailer at the time. Our bedrooms were on opposite ends of the trailer. It was the middle of the night and the thunder was so loud, it woke us both up. We actually met in the middle of the trailer it scared us both so much. The lightening was so bright it turned off the street light that was just outside the trailer. The last three years have been pretty rough for her since her stroke. As much as I love her, I know she is resting peacefully and is in God's hands now.

Bonnie was my Aunt, and it was very important that we called her Aunt Bonnie, not just Bonnie. I remember being prob around 10 and staying the weekend with her in Portland. To a small town kid it was a big deal. She took me to Fred meyer and bought me a little Hawaiian doll. She moved away for years, but when she moved back to the beach we had lots of good times with her. Tons of fun memories were made at all moms family gatherings. We saw Bonnie a year ago and it was a great visit. That's how I wish to remember her. Happy and healthy. Sad to see her go but she is now pain free and can rest as much as she wants. Till we meet again Aunt Bonnie ❤

Oregon City may get new inn

OREGON CITY — A historic house on the outskirts of the city could become the city's third bed and breakfast inn.

The Planning Commission on Tuesday approved a conditional-use permit that would allow for the development of the inn at the Capt. John C. Ainsworth House, 19131 S. Leland Road. The house is one of the best examples of the Classic Revival style in Oregon, according to historians.

The house, which was built in 1851 for the prominent steamship captain and financier, and the surrounding 17.73 acres are owned by Keith Kinsman, who plans to sell it to developer Owen Gann. Gann wants to put a 60-lot subdivision on the property.

Two Oregon City women plan to purchase the historic house from Gann along with a little more than an acre for their bed and breakfast business. A nearby cottage also is included.

The large house could be used for receptions, according to Claire Met and Carol Wood, who hope to buy the house and a small piece of property. The women plan to turn the small adjacent house into a "honeymoon cottage."

Met owns the Jaeger house in the city's historic McLoughlin neighborhood, which she turned into a bed and breakfast inn several months ago.

The Ainsworth House and 9.5 acres of nearby property were listed in 1973 on the National Register of Historic Places. The property was annexed to the city last fall and is zoned as low-density residential on the city's comprehensive plan.

The historic house sits on a knoll that overlooks the city's Mount Pleasant area. It was built for Ainsworth, who came to Oregon from Sacramento, Calif., to become captain of the Lot Whitcomb in Milwaukie, the first steamship on the Willamette River.

The Oregonian, Mar 30, 1990

Owen Harvey Gann left us to be with his Savior, Jesus Christ, on November 30, 2021 at 4:55 p.m. in Irving, Texas with his daughter, Jen Walters by his side.

Owen was born February 10, 1946 in Conway, Missouri to Virgil and Della Gann. Graduating from Clackamas High School in Portland, Oregon in 1965, Owen worked full time at a local nursery during High School years.

He was drafted into the Vietnam War, choosing the branch of Army to serve in. Graduating from boot camp in July of 1966, he was shipped to Cameron Bay, Vietnam. While stationed there in April of 1967 he heroically saved the life of a fellow service member. Owen intervened in the incorrect repair of a 10,000 lb. forklift tire that exploded and blew them into the air. He was awarded the Bronze Star for his heroic action and quick thinking that saved the man's life. After recovering from his accident, he spent the remaining part of his enlistment on light duty at Fort Sill, Oklahoma.

Owen later moved back to Oregon and while attending Liberty Temple Gospel Church there he met and fell madly in love with Jill Carroll of Woodland, Washington, an eighteen-year-old piano player and choir director there. They married in 1969 and had two children. Their son, Owen Rodney Gann, who went by the name Rodney was born in 1970. Their daughter Jennifer Leann Gann was born in 1973.

Owen was always an extremely hard worker who ran a successful roofing business for over 40 years. After that he became a land contractor and developer until entering retirement as a 100% disabled Vietnam Veteran.

Owen was blessed with two grandchildren, Allysa "Sweetie pie" Bethany Walters and Braden Owen Walters. They were his greatest loves in life, spending every Christmas and birthdays spoiling them. His son in law was the second son in his life and he treated him like his own blood. He was so proud of his Coast Guard career.

He was preceded in death by his two siblings that he loved. An older sister, Imogene Marcella Gann, and his younger brother, Leslie Everett Gann.

Owen was an avid rifle and bow hunter who loved bringing home the big game on hunting trips with his then hunting buddy, friend and Pastor Jack Dennis. For the past 33 years he and his best friend Pastor Larry Huch of New Beginnings Church (in Portland, Oregon and then Dallas, Texas) shared a love of the outdoors with many great amazing hunting adventures. Owen and the Huchs considered each other family. Larry and Tiz, Anna, Luke, and Katie (and, then Brandin and Jen) shared a lot of great times camping, fishing, hunting, games, laughing, church and ministry outreach and drinking a lot of coffee for the past 33 years. He's been a faithful, loyal and steadfast leader in church services and events, life groups, men's breakfasts, overcomers groups, prayer meetings and church lobby socializing, befriending and encouraging people the whole time. He was a prayer warrior who lived a life of compassion, prayer, strong faith and deep love for God, His Word, and His people. Owen loved and was loved by many great friends.

If you knew Owen, then you knew he was a breakfast and coffee guy. His favorite time spent on most days was meeting someone for breakfast and drinking copious amounts of black coffee at his favorite restaurant. As much as he loved church services, he was at his best before and after services hanging out in the lobby socializing, befriending, encouraging, smiling, laughing and enjoying being a friend and a light to everyone in his path—always with a cup of coffee in his hand. He truly gave his life to making the world a better place! Owen impacted many lives and changed the world over a cup of coffee!

He walked in love as a daily example showing others what a true man of God looked like. May God raise up thousands of men and women to be and do the same! We will miss you every day until we see you again. Keep the coffeepot in Heaven hot and save a cup for us all!

A Memorial service was held at 2:00 p.m. Thursday, January 13, 2022 at New Beginnings Church 2000 Forum Parkway, Bedford, TX 76021. In lieu of flowers please donate to the Wounded Warrior Project.

Howdy, Everyone. It has been a very long time since I've heard from or seen you. Of course, vice-versa is equally true. Therefore, an update of information on my part is totally in order. A number of you met my wife, Barbara (Vosz), in 1985

Barb, a native of Grantsburg WI for the first twenty years of her life, was working as a beautician. A few years later, after becoming allergic to beauty shop chemicals, she was a retail clerk and wine steward at several Made in Oregon stores for eight years. Being in retail sales wasn't very fulfilling for her however, after working on people's hair and nails, while also listening to her clients tell her about their life's problems—one afternoon in August of 1991--we were living on the farm in Clackamas, she returned home at the age of forty announcing she had begun enrolling at the University of Portland May, 1999, Barb graduated from George Fox University with her Masters-of-Counseling Degree held in her tender, kindly hands

During her internships, she had worked with homeless Burnside-area people and adolescents who had been physically, emotionally and/or sexually abused--some themselves had become abusers. Her career moved us to Coos Bay, Oregon in December of 1999 where she has been working as a child and family therapist

At the time of the 1985 reunion, I was still the owner/manager of Jerry's Yard and More--a yard renovation-hauling-handyman business that I operated first out of Gresham and then, later--out of Molalla, Oregon, with clients in Multnomah, Clackamas and Washington counties While still living in Gresham, I started working at the Vanport Industries sawmill in Boring. When I finally figured out that I was not bringing in enough income from my yard-work business, I found very decent work at Brazier's Forest Industries--strictly 'old-growth' sawmill--in Molalla.

We moved there in November of 1987 When the mill quit sawing old growth logs in 1991, I was forced to look in a different direction for work I have worked at a number of warehouse/delivery/building and grounds maintenance positions since then, the latest full-time work having been at Hanset Brothers distributor of brooms and janitorial products in Portland up until our move to Coos Bay, where I have been able to find similar work. Barb and I both prefer rural life to that in a city

We are considering buying the house we are living in now, which is on a large city lot, in hopes of eventually buying a home on enough acreage that we can raise some livestock, have fruit trees, cane berries and a huge vegetable gardening site

We're also into growing our own herbs and flowers. Except when we were living in SE Portland, from which we moved to Coos Bay, we have always had the space in which to indulge in most or all of the above hobbies. Other activities we like to participate in include camping, hiking, cooking, hunting, fishing and other mainly outdoor interests The most dominant shared interest we have always had however, is our religious faith. We married four months after first seeing one another at a Lutheran church service and on September 26th of this year we will celebrate our nineteenth wedding anniversary Church-related activities are often a major part of our social life Barb sings in the choir and has sung in duets, trios, quartets and choruses all of her life. For eighteen years, she was a member of the West Hills Sweet Adelines--a women's barbershop chorus in Beaverton, Oregon

We love the moderate climate and are beginning to take advantage of the very numerous recreational opportunities of living on the southern Oregon coast

I considered my graduation speech as the high point in my accomplishments; however, I feel I am now breaking free to establish my own identity. I owe the change in my attitude to my faith and personal relationship with God—giving me hope

I am currently in the process of building a new business of rebuilding toner cartridges for printers and copiers. I expect to be involved with an internet conference in Roseburg at the same time as the reunion activities. I'll see you next time.

BT2 Ray Kennedy Served aboard the USS Talladega APA 208 and the USS Duluth LPD-6 from about 1965 to 1970.

I first met him in November 1967 when I boarded the Talladega in Hong Kong harbor and as a Fireman Apprentice, Assigned to B-Division. He was a great mentor and friend from whom I learned the workings of the Fire Room and Boiler Tending. We were homeported in Long Beach and when the Talladega was transferred to the Reserve Fleet in the spring of 1968, he was transferred to the USS Duluth in San Diego. We kept up correspondence by mail and occasionally visited each other over the next year but then lost contact.

Yesterday, August 9, 2019, I was going through an old trunk my mother had left and found the letters from Ray and it kindled the desire to look for him. His last letter said he was writing a girl in Illinois, that a friend on the Duluth had introduced, and he was quite interested. I thought maybe he had gone there and it was a shock to find he had passed away at such a young age in 1973!

We had hard, hot, work but many good memories made on liberties across the ocean and in California. May he rest in Peace – Friends always, Billy Walker

RE: Ray Eugene Kennedy

That is a shock, my first thought when I had learned of his death was that he had got a motorcycle and had an accident. He liked motorcycles. I last saw Ray on Memorial Day weekend 1968. He had just reported to the Duluth and I took a bus from Long Beach to San Diego and he showed me around the ship. He was quite proud of the new command and was happy to show me the boiler and engine rooms. I think they deployed to WestPac and I never saw him again.

Oregon is the only state I have not visited and this September my son is flying the family to San Francisco and we are to drive up as far as Crater Lake in Oregon to complete all 50 states. I would like to visit Ray's grave but it appears a bit too much farther north than we plan. Thank you again for contacting me -God Bless and good luck with your reunion!

Stan Neal Tribute

Stanley King Neal, MD died peacefully at the age of 77 on Friday, August 9, 2024, surrounded by his loving family.

Stan was born in Portland, Oregon in 1946 to parents Charles and Mildred Neal and grew up in Clackamas. He graduated from Clackamas High School in 1965 and started Pre-Med at Portland State University. While in Medical School at OHSU, he was reintroduced to a childhood acquaintance, Elaine Diane Voigt, and they married in 1971.

After graduating from Medical School, Stan and Elaine moved to San Bernardino, California for his internship and residency. Their first child, Christina Noel, was born there in September 1973.

Upon completion of his residency, they moved back to Oregon to be closer to family and settled in Albany, Oregon, where Dr. Neal opened his new office to practice family medicine.

Their second child, David Thomas-King, was born in November 1976. The next year, The Neal family joined Hope Church (then First Assembly of God), attending regularly for several decades.

Stan had many hobbies, including music (percussion, piano, harmonica, bass guitar, bagpipes, and more), whitewater rafting, traveling with the family, attending men's events with the church, and participating in mission trips. Even after traveling the world, his favorite destination was Black Butte Ranch in Central Oregon.

Dr. Neal kept his medical practice open for over forty years, working with and mentoring several other doctors during that time. He loved practicing medicine so much, he spent much of his retirement treating patients at an Urgent Care clinic, even in his last year of life. Mr. Neal held many titles in his life, but the one he was most proud of was "Papa Stan." He adored his grandkids and looked forward to seeing them as often as possible.

Stan succumbed to lymphoma after a six-month battle. He is pre-deceased by his father and mother and his older brother Dean. He is survived by his wife of 53 years Elaine, his daughter Noel (Christy) and her husband Chuck, his son David and his wife Stephanie, his five grandchildren, as well as his sister Beverly and brother Tom.

A memorial service will be held at 11am on Saturday, September 28, at Hope Church in Albany.

Wow this brings back fun memories!
Yes Parzy Rose SR was our Caller/ 4H Leader for several years for Square Dancing. His son our classmate and friend "Trey" as I knew him (though he was really Parzy Rose JR.) Judy Taylor and her brother Bill, my sister Janet and brother Stan and I and at least a dozen or two other kids all danced in the Dancing Lancers (taken from the mascot was The Dale Ickes Lancers) and came from our SE area in Clackamas County. Lessons were held at schools and the Rock Creek Community Hall. As a group we sponsored our own square dances as did several other teenage groups in Oregon. We danced / performed at the Clackamas County Fair and actually visited and danced with other Teen Square Dance Clubs ... eventually performing and competing with each other at the Oregon State Fair. From the several teen groups in the State an Exhibition group called Tandem Teens (a square four couples danced within another square of four couples which created intricate patterns as we moved around the double square!) was created and we performed at adult square dancing events and also sponsored a special dance or monthly dances. We hosted and danced with a visiting group of Romanian teen folk dancers at a large Dance Hall in Portland. Actually Square Dancing was / is American Folk Dancing.
A few of us ended up also as Callers and we made good friends as we square danced.
Somewhere I have saved pictures and articles
"Published" regarding our talented escapades...

Yikes! ... this turned into a fun visit to my past!
We truly had such fun... 4H , music , dancing, friends & family .. Oh those "Good Old Days!"

Back when our parents met while Square Dancing at RockCreek CC, my Dad got Parzy into calling along with Mr. Wright from Ickes and then me too. There were lots of "classes" for both dancing and calling yet it was so much FUN the actual work of it was not an issue. Our parents were our mentors and we grew with them as we enjoyed good fun!

Trey was a good friend ... quiet mostly however with our square dancing clubs & activities he really was so much fun! I cherish those memories... We also picked several sorts of berries, beans and filberts too and his mom was a great Field Boss! Amazing how in our own adult lives every once in awhile he'd stop by my parents home and we'd sit on the porch and be so stunned to share similar stories of the events in our lives

So my friends thank you and I have loved the opportunity to share !

Take care of each other!
Love & Hugs

Oregon Says Ten Died On Weekend

By UP INTERNATIONAL

Oregon's accidental death toll for the Labor Day holiday weekend stood at 10 today, including seven in highway accidents.

The weekend count began at 6 p.m. Friday and ends at midnight tonight.

The latest victim was Michael Schroeder, 17, of Clackamas, who was killed when he dived into shallow water in the Willamette River near Marylhurst College Sunday.

Sheriff's deputies said Schroeder suffered a skull fracture and a broken neck when he plunged from a 12-foot high cliff.

Some Day

Some day all doubt and mystery,
Will be made clear;
The threatened clouds which now we see
Will disappear.

Some day what seems a punishment,
Or loss, or pain,
Will prove to be God's blessing sent
For every gain.

Some day our weary feet will rest
In sweet content,
And we will know how we were blest
By what was sent.

And looking back with clearer eyes
O'er life's short span,
Will see with wondering, glad surprise,
God's perfect plane.

And knowing that the way we went
Was God's own way,
Will understand His wise intent,
Some day - some day.

Have private lake, will water ski

Private lakes throughout Clark County provide venues for recreation, development of sport

By Lauren Dake, Columbian Political Writer
Published: August 8, 2015, 5:00pm

There is only one way to stay in shape for water skiing, Scott Thompson likes to say. Water ski

The 67-year-old would know. Nearly every day, he skims over the water in a private water-skiing lake in Yacolt.

Water skiing is an adrenalin junkie's sport, he said. It's addictive and intense — and to be good, it require discipline.

He has no intention of ever trading in his ski for a set of golf clubs. But for him, water skiing has always been more than about clearing the next buoy.

It's also about family.

Along with his wife, Mary, who was his high school sweetheart, Thompson bought his first ski boat in 1969. He had recently returned from Vietnam, where he earned a Purple Heart, and was approached by a soldier trying to sell his aluminum ski boat. It was the winter in Kansas; ice lined the lake.

The couple drained their savings, bought the boat at the heavily discounted price of $375 and took turns dragging each other across the lake until they got the hang of it.

That was in 1969. When purchasing the 14-foot aluminum ski boat, Thompson never anticipated what a big part water skiing would play in his life.

At one point, his wife would be the nationally top-ranked woman water skier in her age group.

His daughter, Erika Bolliger, now 45, impressed judges and ranked both regionally and nationally in the sport.

The family traveled together to competitions throughout the country, each doing well in their own age group.

Bolliger's daughter, Thompson's granddaughter, is a skier.

And, Thompson says with a smile, he's betting it won't be long before his great-granddaughter, who is expected in September, will be out on the water.

"It's a lifetime sport that we can all do together," he said.

Private lakes

On Mint Lake, the man-made private lake Thompson co-owns, the conditions are always perfect.

Frederick Scott Thompson continued

The rectangular lake was engineered to foster glassy conditions; the wind rarely makes the water choppy, and rolling waves are rare.

The lake is about 2,200 feet long and 5 feet deep.

Mint Lake was the first private water-skiing lake in the county. Thompson teamed with four other families to build the lake.

The controlled environment, he said, has helped the sport thrive, and the athletes who practice on it improve drastically.

Warman Lake and Tug Lake, both in Vancouver, were built a couple of years later.

Private water-skiing lakes are not unique to Washington, although the state has a thriving water-ski culture. More than a dozen private water-ski lakes dot the state. The first private lakes appeared in the Seattle area and Southern California in the 1970s.

Mint Lake

On a recent sunny day, Bolliger is at the wheel of a Malibu LXI skiboat, with her father behind the boat.

The engine throttles, the slack in the line starts to disappear.

"OK, honey," Thompson says.

In a second, he's out of the water.

With a rooster tail following him, he appears to barely touch the water as he flies over the wake.

Each time he makes it through the six buoys, the rope is shortened to increase the difficulty.

"If it was an easy sport, you know what they would call it?" Thompson says later.

"Wake-boarding."

In Loving Memory of Teddy (Ted) Thomas Williams

Teddy was born to Eugene (Gene) and Ella Williams of Milwaukie, Oregon on a snowy winter night, December 20, 1946, in Oregon City, Oregon. He was greeted with open arms by his brother Larry Williams 10 years older and his sister, Linda Williams 4 ½ years older. He passed away on Saturday night, August 6, 2022, at age 75 in Meridian Park Hospital, Tualatin, Oregon. The date of his death was significant because it is the birthday of his deceased brother, Larry Williams.

Teddy met Lynne Cole the love of his life his junior year at Clackamas High school. Our dear neighbor Laurie Bellman was in a class with Lynne and was aware that she was new to the school. Laurie introduced herself to Lynne and told her she would take her around and introduce her to a few people. When Laurie and Lynne left German class that day they ran into Teddy in the hall. Both Ted and Lynne had an immediate attraction at the time, but it took Teddy 6 months to ask her out. They became an item and never looked back.

After high school Teddy joined the Merchant Marines for a couple of years while Lynne went to beauty school. Shortly after they were engaged, Ted went to barber school. After he graduated from barber school, he worked at Oak Grove Barber Shop for Paul Quintana. Lynne and Ted were married October 1967 in Milwaukie, Oregon and were married for nearly 55 years prior to his death. Together they built a happy, full life.

Lynne and Ted were blessed with 4 wonderful children. Brent Charles Williams, Kari Nichole Williams (Kendall Robinson), Tye Marie Ingram (Tom), and Kirk Thomas Williams. (Samantha). They all live within twenty minutes of Lynne and Ted.

Lynne and Ted have 7 grandchildren, Briana Margaret Norton, Rebekkah Lynne Williams, Austin Thomas Jones, Zakary Gage Williams, Blakely Ann Williams, Sydney Ella Rae Williams, and Easton Thomas Williams. They also have 4 great grandchildren, Natalie Janae Jones, Adalinn Beverly Rae Kohle, Easton James Kohle, and Wallace (Wally) Daniel Spurgeon.

Ted is survived by his wife, all his children, grandchildren and great grandchildren, and his sister Linda Rae Williams of Vancouver Washington. His older brother Larry Lee Williams preceded him in death by 20 years. He also is survived by his mother-in-law, Colleen Mackin of Milwaukie, sister-in-law, Harriet Lee Benson of Tigard, and three nephews, Troy Eugene Williams (Kimberly) of Beaverton, Todd James Williams of Lake Oswego, Scott Allen Williams, (Peggy), of Wilsonville, niece Shelley Williams, Lake Oswego, and 6 great nieces and nephews, plus a great, great nephew.

Kari has fond memories with her dad camping and fishing off a raft up at Timothy Lake. Teddy also taught her how to ride a horse and they would go on rides together. Kari still loves camping to this day, horses not so much (see below)!

Tye got her love of baking and cooking from her dad. She remembers her mom and sister would go to clogging class and Tye would stay home with her dad (and probably Kirk) and they would bake butter cookies together. Tye said they would eat them afterward so there would not be any evidence!

Teddy's career took a big turn. While he worked as a barber, he would work part time for his brother Larry's exterminating Company, United Exterminating and after several years he and a partner, Tom Linke bought Larry out of the business. After just a few years of running the business together his partner passed away suddenly leaving the business insurance money to Teddy to own and operate the business by himself which he did until he retired.
